

SHALL THE CURSE BE REMOVED

The Boston Journal

We see nothing alarming in it, though radicals and extremists on both sides will be likely to regard it with suspicion. It is about the mildest form of emancipation yet proposed, and shows that the leanings of the Administration are to a conservative and cautious policy in the treatment of this very delicate question.

There are many and strong objections to this plan, one of which is, that the people of the Free States will not like to be taxed to pay for slaves which the slaveholders' rebellion has made comparatively worthless. They will willingly pay a tax for war purposes to put down the rebellion, but will not submit with a good grace to be taxed for the benefit of slave owners. We hope he will soon see that a remedy more immediate, more practical, more grand, more eminently just, has become a necessity, as one of the incidents of the war.

Everything is quiet here and at Newport News this morning.

---

GENS. BUCKNER AND TILGHMAN PLACED IN CLOSE CONFINEMENT.

Boston, Tuesday, March 11, 1862.

Information from Fort Warren states that Gens. Buckner and Tilghman were put in close confinement yesterday. The cause for this is not stated.

To Hon. GIBBON WALLACE, Sec. of Navy, Washington, D. C.

John Allen, Co. C, 25th Mass., East Douglass.

I arrived within five or six miles of the mouth of the